

Learning with the Lowe: Virtual Experiences

The Lowe Art Museum education department is offering virtual classroom experiences for UM Students, Faculty and Staff.

Options include:

- Guided virtual interactive discussions using works of art from the Lowe's permanent collection that connect with the course curriculum, themes, or topics.
- Virtual professional development workshops for staff or students with a focus on improving class communication skills such as critical thinking, active listening, observation, and dealing with ambiguity.
- Informative presentations about the temporary exhibitions and/or permanent collection resources.

UM Faculty contact:

Christina Larson, Andrew W. Mellon Fellow for Academic Engagement: clarson@miami.edu

UM Staff contact:

Hope Torrents, School Programs Coordinator:
htorrents@miami.edu

