Introduction to the Public Sculpture Collection

Art delights the senses and stimulates the mind. It is a mirror of man’s creativity, a buffer and an ornament to new communities while also revealing our surroundings. It is a mirror for the University of Miami’s growth to build a visible sculpture park, which contains more than fifty pieces by leading artists from around the world. These works are a testament to the University’s commitment to arts and culture and its ability to reflect the changing demographics of the Miami community. In addition, they provide a public setting to enhance our local community and promote a shared sense of pride.

The works held in the University of Miami’s sculpture park have been generously gifted to the University by a number of enthusiastic philanthropists and are available for the general public to enjoy. This guide is designed to help you easily locate and identify these sculptures, which have been installed at strategic points throughout the University of Miami’s campus and are professionally maintained by the Lowe Art Museum.

Founded in 1950, the Lowe is Miami-Dade County’s first collecting art museum. Its encyclopedic collection comprises 19,000 works and spans 5,000 years of global art and culture. The University’s outdoor sculpture park, which was formally established in 2001, is a fitting adjunct to the Museum’s holdings and reflects Miami-Dade County’s cultural diversity.

We hope you enjoy discovering the University of Miami’s outstanding collection of outdoor sculptures, which will continue to grow in the years to come.
